

During your visit

These are questions you may consider asking admissions officers, tour guides, or students to learn more about the college. Write your own questions based on your interests and be sure to keep notes and even take screenshots to reflect back on later.

College/institution name:

What is your plan around COVID? Are students virtual, remote, or hybrid?

What makes this college unique?

What are the smallest and largest class sizes?

TIP

Bottom line: Ask yourself, "Can I see myself going here?" Go with your instinct. Better to find out now that a college isn't for you rather than when you're moving into the dorm. And don't let where your friends are going shape your decision. This is about you, not them.
